Freedom of Speech and Its Limits Wojciech Sadurski, 2014-08-15 In authoritarian states the discourse on freedom of speech conducted by those opposed to non democratic governments focuses on the core aspects of this freedom on a right to criticize the government a right to advocate theories and ideologies contrary to government imposed orthodoxy a right to demand institutional reforms changes in politics resignation of the incompetent and the corrupt from positions of authority The claims for freedom of speech focus on those exercises of freedom that are most fundamental and most beneficial to citizens and which are denied to them by the government But in a by and large democratic polity where these fundamental benefits of freedom of speech are generally enjoyed by the citizens the public and scholarly discourse on freedom of speech hovers about the peripheries of that freedom the focus is on its outer boundaries rather than at the central territory of freedom of speech Those borderline cases in which people who are otherwise genuinely committed to the core aspects of freedom of speech may sincerely disagree include pornography racist hate speech and religious bigoted expressions defamation of politicians and of private persons contempt of court incitement to violence disclosure of military or commercial secrets advertising of merchandise such as alcohol or cigarettes or of services and entertainment such as gambling and prostitution

Religious Accommodation and its Limits Farrah Raza, 2023-04-20 On what grounds should religious accommodation claims be limited When do religious claims harm the autonomy of others This book proposes an original model of religious accommodation which can be applied in secular liberal democracies where religious diversity has been a hotly contested issue Addressing the complex question of limitations to the right to Freedom of Religion or Belief and how these limitations might be determined it examines how religious claims can harm the autonomy of others and emphasises the need for an appropriate balancing of competing interests Drawing on a range of case study examples from jurisdictions including the US Canada the European Court of Human Rights the European Union s Court of Justice the UK Germany and France this is a timely contribution to the debate on how a legal duty or policy approach in favour of religious accommodation can be applied in practice Moreover the proposed model offers criteria that may be used to guide the implementation of equality and diversity policies in contexts such as employment and education The book will be of interest to academics legal practitioners and policy makers in the field Bulletin of the Public Affairs Information Service, a Cooperative Clearing House of Public Affairs Information Public Affairs Information Service,1916 Bulletin of the Public Affairs Information Service Public Affairs Information Service,1916 The Ethics of National Security Intelligence Institutions Adam Henschke,Seumas Miller,Andrew Alexandra,Patrick F.
