Euphoria And Other Human Longings:

The Wild Longing of the Human Heart William Cooney, 2015-12-01 The search for happiness has been an enduring quest for us all The greatest minds from history Plato Aristotle Epicurus Rousseau Kant Mill Gandhi Einstein and many others all confirm that happiness is the one thing we all crave after The Wild Longing of the Human Heart is divided into two parts Part one examines the brief history of happiness which has not always meant exactly the same thing to all cultures and individuals and then moves on to summarize the latest information from the areas of brain science as well as the field of positive psychology Part two proposes that it is not happiness in the psycho physiological sense of something like tranquility which is the true goal of human living Rather the true goal of the wild longing is a meaningful life guided by the search for truth beauty and goodness

Euphoria and Symposia Kieran Bonner, 2025-06-10 Euphoria and Symposia explores the relationship between euphoria desire and well being in the human practices of drinking and thinking both phenomena in which seeking more more alcohol more knowledge can be understood ambiguously as simultaneously positive and negative Drinking leads to both euphoria and depression and is potentially destabilizing for both the individual and the collective While medical science understands it is risky for our health dependency addiction illness anthropology sees drinking as contributing to communal celebration euphoria sociability Since health and celebration are both desirable goods Kieran Bonner suggests that it is this balancing act our desire for what is better and good our preference for one thing over another that creates ambiguity revealing a grey zone that is fundamental to a fuller understanding of well being In a series of case studies revealing intricacies and ambiguities not usually picked up in typical scientific philosophical or sociological discourses Bonner posits well being as harmony requiring nuanced judgments about the various things that humans desire including wealth health beauty power vitality leisure pleasure love and wisdom Informed by a creative synthesis of Socratic interrogation hermeneutic perspectives drawn from post phenomenological thinkers such as Hans Georg Gadamer and Hannah Arendt and distinctive perspectives found in the tradition of reflexive sociology Euphoria and Symposia asserts that reconciling unlimited desire with the finite nature of the human condition is essential for the understanding and enjoyment of life itself

Think Like God Richard C. Gayle, 2018-03-12 Can mortal humans think like an immortal God I say yes we can This is the desire of all Christians to be like their Father Overcoming the limitations of your mind and capturing the mind of God will propel you into a life that is not of this world It is the mind of God that will help us deal with situations that would cause many to give up on life It is the mind of God that will give us peace that goes beyond anything we can explain it is the mind of God that makes us see beyond our restrictions and believe that we can do all things I challenge you today to start your process and begin to think like God

Integral Green Zimbabwe Elizabeth Mamukwa, Ronnie Lessem, Alexander Schieffer, 2016-05-23 Integral Green Zimbabwe An African Phoenix Rising by Ronnie Lessem Alexander Schieffer and Liz Mamukwa is the first book in the Integral Green Society and Economy series a series which has three overarching aims The first aim is to link together two major movements of our time one philosophical the other practical The philosophical movement is towards what many today are calling an integral age while the practical is the green movement duly aligned with that of sustainable development The second is to blend together elements of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology politics and economics thus serving to bring about an integral green vision albeit with a focus on business and economics As such the authors transcend the limitations to sustainable development and environmental economics which are overly ecological if not also technological in orientation and exclude social and cultural elements Thirdly this particular volume focuses specifically on Zimbabwe as well as Southern Africa drawing on the particular issues and capacities that this country and region represents The emphasis on Zimbabwe and Southern Africa transpired not only because two of the editors Lessem and Mamukwa are Zimbabwean in origin but because Zimbabwe is today like a phoenix rising from the ashes and has the opportunity to recreate itself anew The Dying Soul Mark

Cobb,2001-01-16 Holistic models of cancer and palliative care frequently refer to spirituality as an important element But what do we mean when we talk about spirituality and how do we provide spiritual care This book sets out an understanding of this complex domain describing how spirituality is experienced and expressed and looks at the impact of terminal illness The author argues that if we are to recognize spirituality as a significant aspect of living and dying then care providers must develop an interesting consistent and effective approach Therefore issues of training policy and practice all need to be addressed Spirituality is often represented as the fourth pillar of palliative care and yet it is often the least developed area in terms of both theory and practice Originating from the author s clinical and teaching experience this book aims to explore the concepts issues and practical implications of spirituality in care Integral Green Zimbabwe Professor Ronnie

Lessem,Dr Alexander Schieffer,Ms Liz Mamukwa,2014-11-28 Integral Green Zimbabwe An African Phoenix marks the debut of the Integral Green Society and Economy series which links the philosophical integral age with the practical green movement The series blends elements of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology politics and economics while this particular volume focuses specifically on Zimbabwe as well as Southern Africa drawing on the particular issues and capacities that this country and region represent Feminist Philosophers Jean Grimshaw,1986

Alienation R.F. Geyer,D.R. Schweitzer,1976-07-31 The original papers which appear in this volume were initially presented in a series of sessions of the Ad Hoc Group on Alienation Theory and Research at the 1974 World Congress of Sociology in Toronto Canada This group was organized by the editors as a result of their longstanding research and teaching interest in the field The purpose of the Toronto sessions was to provide an international forum where scholars and researchers could come to gether for a personal exchange of ideas and research findings To our know ledge this was the first forum of its kind concerned specifically with alienation theory and research More than fifty theoretical and empirical papers from thirteen countries and several overlapping disciplines were organized into panels and workshops during the span of four days The response to these sessions indicates that interest in the study of alienation by philosophers and social scientists continues unabated The Toronto sessions were organized largely around a fundamental concern for further theoretical development and conceptual clarification in the alienation field The papers selected for this volume reflect this thematic concern Although many excellent empirical papers were presented it was generally felt that meaningful empirical research would benefit from a continued elaboration and refinement of alienation theory The present collection is consequently geared to problems of meaning theory and method Considerable emphasis is also placed on a critical evaluation of the alienation theme as it has evolved from social philosophy to empirical social research

Our Lady of Victorian Feminism Kimberly VanEsveld Adams,2001 Our Lady of Victorian Feminism is about three nineteenth century women Protestants by background and feminists by conviction who are curiously and crucially linked by their extensive use of the Madonna in arguments designed to empower women In the field of Victorian studies few scholars have looked beyond the customary identification of the Christian Madonna with the Victorian feminine ideal the domestic Madonna or the Angel in the House Kimberly VanEsveld Adams shows however that these three Victorian writers made extensive use of the Madonna in feminist arguments They were able to see this figure in new ways freely appropriating the images of independent powerful and wise Virgin Mothers In addition to contributions in the fields of literary criticism art history and religious studies Our Lady of Victorian Feminism places a needed emphasis on the connections between the intellectuals and the activists of the nineteenth century women s movement It also draws attention to an often neglected strain of feminist thought essentialist feminism which proclaimed sexual equality as well as difference enabling the three writers to make one of their most radical arguments that women and men are made in the image of the Virgin Mother and the Son the two faces of the divine

Liberal Democracy and the Bible Kim Ian Parker,1992 This bold and innovative series of essays addresses the encounter between the biblical exegesis and liberal democratic thought Explores how early modern liberal democratic thinkers such as Hobbes Spinoza Locke and Kant employ the Bible in the development of their political theories The introductory essay focuses on the tension between Reason Revelation and liberal democracy and a concluding essay proposes a substantive method for serious reflection about the issues 79 95 196pp 1992
